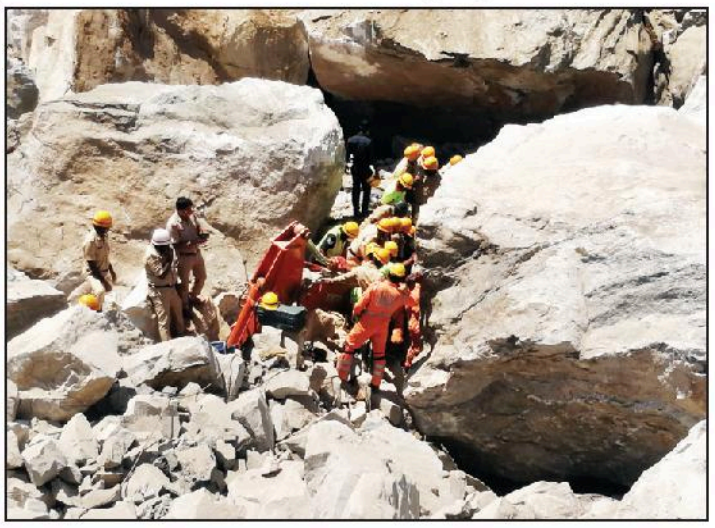
Stone quarry crash in Gundlupet

Search on for workers buried under rocks

- One body retrieved; huge boulders, mud mounds impede rescue operation
- Minister Somanna visits spot; pulls up Mines officials for negligence



Gundlupet, Mar. 5 (SS,SOMG, BCT)- Rescue operations are underway at Madahalli in Gundlupet taluk where landslides occurred at a stone quarry site trapping at least three persons.

The stone quarry collapsed yesterday noon and landslides occurred at three different locations inside one quarry site. Due to the impact, the boulders, along with mounds of mud, came crashing on earth movers and tippers that were digging soil and transporting the mud.

Eye-witnesses said that it took almost 10 minutes for the dust to settle down. They later saw a backhoe covered with rocks and mud. At the time of the incident, over 12 labourers were said to be working at the quarry.

While one dead body has been retrieved this morning, two are still believed to be trapped inside and chances of their survival are bleak. Over 20 personnel from National Disaster Response Force (NDRF), 20 men from State Disaster Response Force (SDRF) and over 15 personnel from the Fire and Emergency Services Department are carrying out the rescue operations.

The rescue personnel landed in Gundlupet late last evening and started looking for the trapped victims at the crack of dawn today. The body of one worker trapped under rocks was pulled with the help of ropes.

To assist in identifying the trapped victims, a sniffer dog has been brought to the site and heavy machinery like bulldozers and backhoes are being used to cut and shift the stones. Difficulty in moving large-size boulders and stones was slowing down the rescue operation.

Those trapped have been identified as Hazeemulla, Miraj and Sarfaraz of Ghorakhpur in Uttar Pradesh and they had come to Gundlupet in search of livelihood. According to their friends, Hazeemulla and Miraj operated a backhoe while Sarfaraz was their assistant.

Russia declares ceasefire in Ukraine

Moscow, Mar. 5 (Agencies)- Russia's Defence Ministry announced a ceasefire today to allow residents of two besieged cities, including the strategic port city of Mariupol, to evacuate.

"Today, March 5, from 10 am Moscow time, the Russian side declares a regime of silence and opens humanitarian corridors for the exit of civilians from Mariupol and Volnovakha," it said. The Ministry clarified that the location of the humanitarian corridors and exit points had been determined in agreement with the Ukrainian authorities.

The announcement comes after Mariupol's Mayor Vadim Boychenko said that the city was under "blockade" by Russian forces after days of "ruthless" attacks. While laying siege to Mariupol, Russian forces have cut its electricity, food, water and transportation.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Numbers can often be hustled to tell many tales; but it is the story that is picked on the basis of the desire to do what is morally right that sets the course for meaningful action. The recent Lancet estimates of COVID-19-associated orphanhood, which put the number at over 19 lakh children orphaned as a result of COVID-19, has raised India's hackles. The Lancet study generated numbers based on modelling and therefore only estimates and not actual numbers are available. Globally, it estimated that 52 lakh children had been rendered orphans by the pandemic. As per data collected by the National Commission for Protection of Child Rights and collated on the Bal Swaraj portal, the number of children orphaned during COVID-19 in India was far lower, at 1.53 lakh.

The Indian Government, to its credit, announced a grand plan of support for children forced into orphanhood by COVID-19. Many States announced rehabilitation plans, including provisions for adoption, foster care, education and health care; some admittedly more progressive than others, but the momentum was certainly built up in the country. It is time to update the status of such programmes, and information on the number of cases where intervention has occurred, and where it is pending, must be put out in the public realm. — In The Hindu

The haunted painting

New York: A "weird thing collector" who paid 50 dollars for a painting at a flea market, despite explicitly being warned that it brought nothing but misfortune, now claims the haunted artwork changed his life for the worse.

Dan Smith – not his real name – bought the unnamed painting of two dolls at a flea market, ignoring the former owner's warnings that it was bad news. If anything, the fact that it was a bad luck charm was something of a bonus, as he wanted to test it out for himself. Unfortunately, his curiosity had a high price, as he claims he went on an "epic losing streak" as soon as he brought it home with him.

Sickness, loneliness, sleeplessness and uneasiness all started creeping into his previously happy life and he is convinced that it's all because of the painting. Now he's auctioning it off on eBay, in an attempt to get his old life back.

Bulldog gives birth to green puppy

Nova Scotia: A 3-year-old bulldog from Nova Scotia gave birth to a litter of eight puppies in which a puppy had fur which was dyed green.

Trevor and Audra Mosher owners of the bulldog said they thought their dog, Freya, was finished after delivering her first seven puppies, but while they were cleaning Freya delivered an eighth puppy, this time encased in a black sac. The couple said they initially feared the puppy was stillborn, but they rushed to clean the newborn canine when she started to move.

The rare discoloration is believed to be caused by light-colored puppies coming into contact with the green pigments from bile juice while in the womb.

Let RTO revert to issuing plastic RC cards

Sir,

While the entire nation is getting and moving on to digitalisation and paperless offices at all sectors, it seems RTO Mysuru is going backwards in this regard.

Decades ago, the RC issued by RTO were in book format, which later was downsized and then to small one. Subsequently, RTO introduced RC cards in the plastic card format with chip insertion. However, it is surprising to note that the vehicle owners who obtain loan from financial institutions under HP tie-up and after clearance of loan, approach RTO for cancellation of HP, the RTO is issuing the RC on a low quality grade paper with a barcode insertion.

The RC so issued has to be laminated by vehicle owners. I don't understand why RTO is issuing such an important document on a low quality paper?

Will the Transport Department or concerned look into this and revert to issuing RC cards in plastic card form, as was done earlier ?

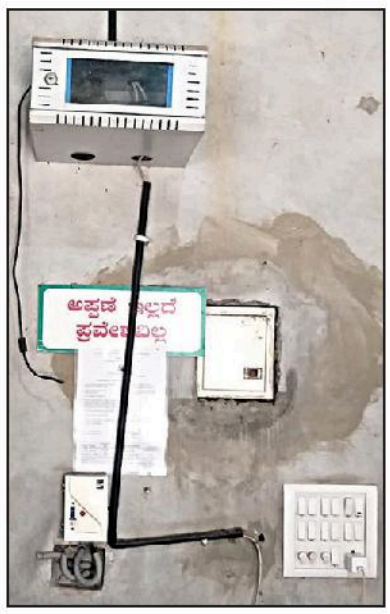
INDIRA CANTEEN REALITY CHECK - 7

All is not well at Shanthinagar canteen but supervisor keeps customers happy



Mysuru, Mar. 5 (RKB&KS)- With CCTV cameras defunct since three years, rusting hot water heating basin, burnt power connecting pin of the heater not replaced and the company not bothered to get anything repaired, all is not well at the Indira Canteen on Azeez Sait Main Road, near Beedi Colony in Shanthinagar here.

Though this canteen is filled with such problems, there are no complaints on the supervisor of the canteen or the supervisor's working style.

Canteen supervisor Mohammed Ayub has taken a lot of initiatives to keep the customers happy. He himself serves food to customers with a smiling face and engages them in talks to gain their confidence.

It has been three years since miscreants broke open the canteen doors, made away with CCTV equipment and destroyed the CCTV monitoring screen.

The company managing the canteen has given Police complaint but has not bothered to get the CCTV cameras repaired or install new ones.

Though there are water heater basins in all canteens to wash utensils including plates and glasses, here the hot water facility is absent though there is a water heater basin, which has become defunct.

Every Sunday, Kesaribath, which is made using ghee, is supplied to this canteen. But in the absence of hot water to wash the plates, greasy layer on the plate still exists even after washing the plates and many customers have also complained about this to the canteen supervisor.

Customers say that though the canteen supervisor has brought this to the notice of the canteen contractor, nothing has been done to solve this issue.

This canteen is frequented by daily wagers, auto drivers, lorry drivers and students.

For breakfast, about 10 kg of chitranna and 15 kg lunch (about 60 plates) are being supplied to this canteen on daily basis, which gets over in a few minutes.

Many customers complaint that sufficient quantity of papads according to the number of plates was not being supplied for lunch and those who come a bit late were not getting papad for lunch.

Babu, an electrician from Ghousianagar, said, "I come to this canteen to have breakfast and lunch. Though rice and sambar is tasty, curd rice which is provided for lunch is like rice porridge without taste."

Search on for workers buried under rocks

Three other workers, who were injured, were rescued and hospitalised. One among them was saved by the Fire personnel.

The workers — Francis, Noor Ahamed and Ashraf — are recuperating at a hospital.

Doctors have said that the condition of all the three rescued workers is stable.

Last evening, IGP Southern Range Pravin Madhukar Pawar told reporters that the tragedy occurred after parts of a stone hillock came crashing down around 12.30 pm. The quarry site owner has been arrested.

Minister Somanna reprimands officials for gross negligence

Gundlupet, Mar. 5 (SS,SOMG, BCT)- Chamarajanagar District Minister V. Somanna visited the Madahalli stone quarry site this morning and inspected the relief and rescue operations.

He was accompanied by Gundlupet MLA C.S. Niranjan Kumar, Deputy Commissioner (DC) Charulata Somal, Superintendent of Police (SP) T.P. Shivakumar and other officials from the Department of Mines and Geology.

Taking the Deputy Director of Mines Nagabhushan and other officials of the Department to task, the Minister questioned how a miner could carry out excavations up to 150 feet below earth.

The Minister was told that the owner of the quarry had obtained a licence from the Government and had sub-leased the same to another person.

Questioning the officer as to why action was not taken on the quarry owner for sub-leasing the quarry site, Somanna lashed out at the officer and said that inaction on the Department's part had led to the tragedy. He then directed the Joint Director of the Department, who had come from Bengaluru, to initiate stern action against violation.

Somanna said that prima facie, it looked like a quarry where all Govt. rules and regulations were thrown into the wind. Villagers who came to the spot alleged that the quarry operations were being carried out in four acres of land while permission was sanctioned only for one acre.

Hit and Run Con

Miscreants waylay car, assault occupants

Mysuru, Mar. 5 (TRR)- An incident of four miscreants, who came in an auto, trying to attack and rob the occupants of a car coming from Bengaluru, has been reported last evening.

Yesterday at around 6.55 pm, a gang of four people came in an auto, waylaid a car coming from Bengaluru to Mysuru after the car passed the Manipal Hospital Junction (earlier Columbia Asia).

The miscreants, who are said to have followed the car from Siddalingapura, reportedly blocked the car when it reached the Manipal Hospital Junction, claiming that their auto was brushed by the car. Later, they attacked one of the car occupants and even damaged the windscreen of the car.

People who gathered at the spot, supported the car occupants and questioned the gang. On seeing the angry crowd, the miscreants sped away in their auto.

A case has been registered at N.R. Police Station.

Desi students from Ukraine

It was a surprise that so many students from in and around Mysuru were studying in Ukraine! Looks like there is a need for a Medical College in Mysuru more than a Ropeway to Chamundi Hill, so students don't have to go to Eastern European nations.

A few years ago, I met some doctors who had graduated from Russian and Ukrainian medical schools and they said it was very hard living and studying in these countries. The weather was harsh, the language curve was severe and the food was unpalatable. They just wanted to graduate and get the hell out of the cold hell.

That was then. Now, as we watch videos and photos of Indian students in Ukraine, it looks like things have changed. Quite a few Indian students love Ukraine and live quite well. Well enough to have pets! It costs quite a bit of one's time and treasure to have a pet, more so when one is living as a student abroad.

Meanwhile, the sight of students finding their way to the Ukrainian border to be evacuated has left many asking, why did they take so long to leave Ukraine? It can't just be the Indian Government's "ambiguous advisory", as many opinion-makers have claimed, can it?

India's advisory came on February 15, one day after Australia and four days after the US. Yet many say this was too late!

Many students said they did not leave because the Indian advisory was vague. So what did the Indian Embassy's February 15 advisory say? It said: "In view of the uncertainties of the current situation in Ukraine, Indian Nationals in Ukraine, particularly students whose stay is not essential, may consider leaving temporarily."

According to reports, some students felt the advisory didn't reflect the gravity of the situation. Instead of saying "students may consider leaving temporarily," the students felt the Government should have said, "students are advised to leave immediately." Looks like these students should try writing UPSC exams to become bureaucrats instead of doctors!

Even if this advisory of India seemed ambiguous and vague and didn't sound alarming enough to make students leave, didn't the sight of American, British, Japanese and Norwegian students leaving, give the Indian students an indication that they too should leave?

The very fact that a few students from Mysuru left the moment they heard the advisory from the embassy and were in their homes safe before the first shot was fired in Ukraine, shows that some people did get the message without ambiguity and made a "considered" decision to return.

So, what held these students back? Was it just the lack of a sense of urgency in the Indian advisory? Surely there is more to it than that.

It makes us wonder, did the students and their parents want to fly back for free? It's a legit question because the ticket prices had shot up after the advisory. Here the Government has indeed failed. It should have capped the cost or subsidised it. The prices for Kyiv to Delhi flights went up from Rs. 25,000 to Rs. 72,000. Naturally the not so well off students had second thoughts.

The Government should have been more decisive in its advisory saying " leave immediately" considering Indians comprise the highest number of foreign students in Ukraine which means you need a head start, but Ukraine Universities made it hard to leave.

Students didn't want to leave because of the Ukrainian Universities' "ambiguity." Some students requested for online classes which they could take when they got back home, but they were refused and were assured by the Ukraine Universities that there was no need for that as the situation would get better.

Some students said that their University informed that they would be charged Rs. 2,000 for every missed offline class, not just that, but their degree too would be withheld if they missed classes! So the students decided to stay back. In fact they were held hostage by Ukrainian Universities.

The Indian Government, noticing that Indian students were not leaving because of the Ukrainian Universities' "ambiguity" put out another advisory. This one stated that the Embassy of India was engaged with Ukranian authorities for streamlining of the education process for Indian students but in the meanwhile "students are advised in the interest of their safety to leave Ukraine temporarily, rather than wait for official confirmation from Universities."

Indian Government may have not been stern enough in asking their citizens to leave, but the greed of Ukrainian Universities led to the problems our students face now.

And greed it is because foreign students bring in a lot of money and Ukraine needs money now and later when the war ends and February was admission season. In fact, international students bring $542m in revenue to the country — which has a GDP of $155bn.

So let's not make our Government the villain in the evacuation story of our students. The Government may have not been "decisive" in its advisory, but nor were the students pro-active and decisive in their intent to leave and protect themselves.

We have a culture that has complete disregard for our safety — from getting up before a flight comes to a complete halt to jumping onto to a moving train; from driving up a one-way street to not wearing helmets; We don't really care about safety.

But... When things go wrong because of our own indecisiveness we blame ambiguous advisory, governmental incompetence and then seek compensation.

In the days to come students who have returned from Ukraine may ask for fee refunds from the Indian Government as Ukraine Universities refuse refunds. They may even demand admission to Indian Medical Colleges on humanitarian grounds if Ukraine Colleges don't open up again.

It is a tragedy and 18,000 students will need help and the Government should help as there are many poor students who have taken loans to fulfil their wish to be doctors. Maybe they can get some money back to pursue another career in their motherland. And it's the duty of the motherland to take care of her children. Let's hope the children will be grateful.

Foundation stone for Planetarium

The planetarium will come up in a 3-acre land and the land has been earmarked and cleaned where giant German Tents have been laid. The location abuts the Welcome Arch of Chamundi Hill. The 22-acre campus at the foothill has been named Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar campus.

This land was granted to the University by the State Government in lieu of the land that has been handed over to All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH) inside the Manasagangothri campus. Mysore University will be the first University to have a Planetarium attached to it though there are over 40 planetariums in the country including one in Bengaluru.

MoU with Indian Institute of Astrophysics

Last December, Mysore University Vice-Chancellor Prof G. Hemantha Kumar signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with Prof. Annapurni Subramaniam, Director of Indian Institute of Astrophysics to set up the planetarium.

As per the MoU, Indian Institute of Astrophysics will fully fund the cost of construction and many outreach programmes and periodic lectures on astronomy, astrophysics and allied subjects will be held.

A science research, education hub

In a press release, the University authorities have stated that the planetarium, educational hub, science education outreach and scientific collaborator activities, will enrich the students with science knowledge. The planetarium will surely bring stars and other celestial objects closer to the students while facilitating experts to conduct experiments in the field. It will have the distinction of being the largest science centre in Mysuru region.

Additional support is being provided by various departments and organisations such as Department of Science and Technology, Department of Atomic Energy, Department Space etc.

Real-time planetarium with playback engine

COSMOS will host India's first planetarium with a Digistar 7 system and a Domex screen. This unique real-time planetarium with a playback engine will make it an extremely powerful tool for education and training for students as well as teachers.

A comprehensive education and public outreach program will be an integral part of the COSMOS project. The Digistar system will allow the university to display real-time data from observatories to students within the dome.

The University will organise regular teaching courses for school and college students, training on processing astronomical data, coding, and hands-on experiments with systematic documentation of astronomy heritage in Karnataka as well as South India.

In addition, summer and winter schools for students, teacher training, sky watching sessions, and collaborations with science groups in the State, combined with the advantage of being housed inside a campus, will make COSMOS an unique project in the country.

Lone woman smothered to death at Belagola

Many murders leave residents worried

Srirangapatna Mar. 5 (Vinay Karekura&BCT)- A 65-year-old woman was smothered to death in Belagola village near Srirangapatna yesterday. Mangalamma, the victim, was living alone.

The Police said she was murdered between afternoon and 9.30 pm. It is suspected that someone known to her had committed the crime. The incident came to light when her grandson came to her house at 9.30 pm.

A case has been booked in KRS Police Station.

The series of murders in the surroundings of Krishna Raja Sagar (KRS) Dam, has worried the residents. Last Thursday, one more youth, 28-year-old Sagar of Karekura village, was hacked to death with lethal weapons and his body was dumped amidst fields.

These two murder cases come just days after five of a family including a woman and four children were murdered over an illicit affair at Bazaar Lane in KRS village on Feb. 6.

Though the accused woman in this case has been arrested, people in the neighbourhood have been terrified as to how innocent children fell victim to enmity that stemmed out of an illicit relationship.

Now as the COVID restrictions have completely been lifted, miscreants have started robbing tourists who come to see the places of scenic beauty in and around the KRS Dam, Belagola and surrounding areas.

Though only a couple of complaints have been filed with the Police, most tourists who are targeted by the criminals prefer not to report the incident to the Police. Usually, the tourists are in a hurry to rush back to their destinations after a vacation and this aspect is being misused by the criminals.

Yesterday too, an industrialist, who had come to KRS, was robbed of cash after waylaying his vehicle. But the victim did not lodge the Police complaint as he was in a tearing hurry to reach his destination, sources said.

This apart, sale of marijuana (ganja) is rampant in the areas and youths are becoming addicts. There are many who bunk colleges to smoke weed in wooded areas. The role of these ganja addicts in crimes cannot be ruled out as they need money to fund their vices, sources said.

Shane Warne dies at 52

Melbourne, Mar. 5 (UNI)- Australian cricket legend Shane Warne (52) died of a suspected heart attack yesterday. Warne, widely regarded as the greatest spinner, was in Koh Samui, Thailand.

"Shane was found unresponsive in his villa and despite the best efforts of medical staff, he could not be revived," read a statement issued by Warne's management according to a Fox Sports report. "The family requests privacy at this time and will provide further details in due course," the statement said.

This is the second devastating blow for Australian cricket within 24 hours, with former wicket-keeper-batter Rod Marsh passing away yesterday after having suffered a heart attack last week.

Warne took 708 Test wickets — the most ever by an Australian and second-most of all time behind Sri Lankan Muttiah Muralitharan.

MCG stand to be renamed in honour of Warne

The Great Southern Stand at Melbourne Cricket Ground (MCG) will be renamed in honour of Australian great Shane Warne. "I've just informed the Warne family that the Government will rename the Great Southern Stand at the MCG — the place he took his hat-trick and 700th wicket — to honour Shane and his contribution to the game," tweeted Daniel Andrews, Premier of Victoria.
